I. Welcome – Mayor Rob Dahle.
Mayor Rob Dahle called the City Council Meeting to order at approximately 6:00 p.m.

II. Pledge of Allegiance.
Mayor Dahle led the Pledge of Allegiance.

III. Presentation and Recognition for Outgoing Mayor Rob Dahle.
Council Member Durham read the Resolution, which stated that Mayor Dahle has provided dedicated service to the City of Holladay

Council Member Gray reported that when she decided to run for office, Mayor Dahle offered to meet with her. One of her concerns pertained to the level of contentiousness, so she asked him how contentious the City Council was in the City of Holladay. Mayor Dahle informed her that everyone got along well. Council Member Gray stated that this is due to his leadership. Mayor Dahle prioritizes diplomacy, respect, cooperation, and kindness. It is an example of the way government should run.

Council Member Quinn stated that her first conversation with Mayor Dahle was when she was thinking about running for office. Mayor Dahle made her feel welcome and offered to answer her questions. She has seen many people be influenced by his kindness and openness. Council Member Quinn expressed appreciation for the years that Mayor Dahle has devoted to the City of Holladay.

Council Member Durham reported that Mayor Dahle is committed and conscientious. Mayor Dahle can include everyone in conversations, build consensus, and make sure there is an opportunity for everyone to express their views, feel heard, and be appreciated. It has been inspiring to watch Mayor Dahle lead the City Council through some of the more difficult discussions and situations.

Council Member Fotheringham has known Mayor Dahle for approximately 25 years, and he is honored to follow him as Mayor of the City. The City of Holladay is stronger because of the service that Mayor Dahle has provided over the last 12 years. His leadership on the UFA Board and UPD Board has also been meaningful. It highlights the fact that the larger community has benefited from his leadership. Mayor Dahle has done excellent work, has left a strong legacy, and will be missed by all.

Mayor Dahle stated that his wife has been a wonderful partner throughout this experience. He has been honored to serve as Mayor of the City and is proud of the way the City looks now. Everyone he knows who is involved in public service wants to make a difference and leave things better than they found it. He believes City of Holladay is in a better position than it was before. He is proud of the committed Staff in the City of Holladay and mentioned their passion and professionalism. Mayor Dahle explained that it has been a privilege to serve and took a moment to thank former and current Council Members. He thanked everyone for the opportunity to serve as Mayor for the last 12 years. He is leaving with incredible optimism for the City and noted that the current financial position is strong.

IV. Public Comments.

There were no public comments.

V. Public Hearing on Proposed Royal Holladay Hills Affordable Housing Agreement.

Mayor Dahle reported that correspondence has been received from residents who own condominium units on the top floor of Block D. There are written comments included in the packet from Dr. Marsden Blanch, Tom Peterson, and Denia-Marie Wright.

Mayor Dahle provided background information before the public hearing was opened. He explained that when the Site Development Master Plan ("SDMP") was created in 2008, there was an Agreement for Development of Land ("ADL") that was entered into by the City and a developer at the time. There was an entitlement put in place back in 2008. Part of the agreement for the distribution of tax increment was that the City would be required to create 100 affordable housing units with a portion of the Redevelopment Agency ("RDA") funds that would be generated. A few years back, there was an agreement to purchase and develop the property under the entitled property rights.

A few months back, the City was approached by the current developers and asked if there was an interest in discussing the possibility of placing 100 deed-restricted units into Block D. There was City Council support for the proposal, because there is a desire to provide housing to people who work in the City but are unable to afford to live in the City of Holladay. While there was support for the proposal, the developers came back later and explained that there were concerns from property owners in Block D. The developers then asked the City Council if there would be a willingness to move those units into Block E, which is not currently constructed. The City Council would prefer to have the units available now but understands the concerns that the developer was attempting to address.

There have been some discussions between the City and the developers. There is a willingness to continue to pursue the placement of the 100 units in Block E. Mayor Dahle reported that the details will continue to be discussed. He noted that a lot of the correspondence received has asked the City to deal with issues that should be handled between the property owners and the developers. For instance, the elimination of a proposed bridge connection between Block D and Block E. Mayor Dahle clarified that it is not a requirement of the development, and it is not an issue that will be considered by the City Council.

Council Member Fotheringham explained that the City Council's preference is for the units to be in Block D, but the proposal to the city was changed, and there is a desire to be accommodating. Mayor Dahle reported that the Affordable Housing Agreement for Block E is included in the Meeting Materials Packet. Ms. Chamness highlighted the changes made to the Block E agreement since the last City Council discussion. Based on conversations at the last meeting, there were four outstanding issues the City Council wanted Staff to revisit. The first issue had to do with some questions about the timeline. The first milestone is seen in Section 2(a). The city, RDA, and developer must reach an agreement on schematics and a concept design for Block E by June 30, 2026. Section 2(b) states that construction needs to start no later than May 1, 2028. This has to do with a timeline on the $2 million worth of expenditure from the Millrock project area. There is a requirement by State Statute to expend those funds by May 1, 2029. May 1, 2028, would provide at least a year to pivot if necessary.

Another outstanding issue the Council raised at the last meeting had to do with interest on the $2.5 million. There is language related to this in Section 4(c) of the agreement, and it states that interest will be reduced as units come online. The agreement also states that funds from that payment of interest will be reserved for affordable housing purposes within two miles of the project area. Council Member Fotheringham stated that there is a timeline associated with $2.5 million. He noted that interest will be earned on that and asked if there would be a similar timeline. City Attorney Todd Godfrey explained that the law does not specify an answer to that question, but it is a policy question that can be answered. It might be wise from a policy standpoint to state that the City Council would like to take the money earned on those funds and invest it in the same manner.

The third outstanding issue was related to a lien or a deed restriction on the underlying land. There is language about this in Section 5 of the agreement. The fourth issue was related to potentially extending the timeline for the deed restriction. Ms. Chamness reported that at the last City Council Meeting, there was a reference to 25 years rather than 20 years. After discussion with the developer, it appeared to be miscommunication. The current agreement maintains the term at 20 years.

Council Member Gray pointed out that the reason 25 years was discussed previously was that there would not be interest paid throughout, but now there will be. Mayor Dahle noted that when the units were proposed to be in Block D, there were no concerns, because Block D is built. With the pivot to Block E, the timeline is more challenging because of the RDA funds and the requirement to put the 100 units somewhere in the City. That is the reason the timelines have been included in the Affordable Housing Agreement. If this does not move forward, the City needs time to meet this obligation. He clarified that the obligation exists regardless of whether the units are in Block D or E.

Wade Budge introduced himself and explained that he is attending the City Council Meeting on behalf of the developer. He agrees with the information shared during the presentation. There is a commitment to the timelines that have been outlined. A provision has been added to state that whenever the RDA would like an update, information can be provided. The intention is to make sure there is progress shown throughout the process. He offered to answer Council Member questions.

Mayor Dahle opened the public hearing.

Terri Yeckley - 1920 East Rodeo Walk Drive, Unit #512. She is a resident of the condominiums and spoke on behalf of a number of other residents. Ms. Yeckley and her husband lived in the City of Holladay decades ago, loved it, and chose to return to the City. They were excited to return to the community and live in this development. She reported that the condominium owners have collectively invested over $40 million. There is great promise in the development, and the owners feel they should be listened to, as there is a desire to see it succeed. The owners are present to request a delay in the approval process for the proposed Affordable Housing Agreement.

Ms. Yeckley explained that there is support for the City's goal of more inclusive development, but there are significant concerns about some of the language included in the agreement, as well as the long-term consequences. The condominium owners urge the City Council to evaluate the findings that have been submitted. Several parts of the proposed agreement need more attention to protect the public, current owners, future Block E residents, and the long-term health of the project. It is believed that the Block E agreement represents a legislative decision rather than an administrative one. It sets new rules and policies.

The condominium owners do not know all of the consequences of approving the current agreement, but there are enough concerns that it makes sense to slow down the process. A premature decision could create financial burdens, governance conflicts, and long-term challenges. Ms. Yeckley stated that the timing of the vote is problematic because many owners only learned about this action 30 days ago. The owners were not informed at the time of purchase that affordable housing was a possibility within the development. Ms. Yeckley requested that the City Council table this until January, that Staff and the developer be directed to revise the agreement for clarity, fairness, and long-term sustainability, and that the developers meet with the owners.

Attached are the full written comments of Ms. Yeckley.

Council Member Gray asked about the bridge, and the HOA mentioned. Mr. Budge reported that Block E has not been designed, but some concepts have been looked into, some of which involve a bridge. Some of the items mentioned during the public hearing are not items the City is obligated to weigh in on. There can be a commitment made to speak to the residents in Block D about the project details. He reiterated that a lot of the items mentioned during the hearing are not relevant to the Affordable Housing Agreement. The intention is to advance concepts and come to the RDA in June 2026 with more schematics. Until then, it is not possible to speak about a potential bridge or any other details.

Mayor Dahle explained that it is not possible to force the developer to meet with the residents in another block. That is not a role that the City Council should play, as they are entitled to private property rights under the SDMP. He would hope that, as responsible developers, there will be work done with the property owners to address their concerns, but what is currently before the City Council is an agreement about the unit types and the maximum price over a period of time. He shared information about the requirements that the City has. Signing an agreement with the developer does not necessarily mean that the units have to be created. That is the reason for the timeline proposed.

Council Member Durham asked if there would be other public input opportunities as this process moves forward. Mr. Godfrey reported that the agreement will be set with the terms. The design of the project will have public presentation guidelines, but the Affordable Housing Agreement will set the terms of the increment-sharing part of the affordable housing allocation. He does not anticipate that it would be revisited. Mr. Budge reported that members of the team will make presentations when the Block E design is brought forward. Mayor Dahle asked about the public notice and engagement process as the Block E design and preparation occur. Community and Economic Development Director, Jonathan Teerlink, reported that there are certain noticing requirements in place.

Council Member Gray mentioned the public comment about whether this should be an administrative action or legislative action. She reported that the City Council is a legislative body. If there were an administrative decision, it would be made by Staff. When something comes to the City Council for consideration, it is because the City Council is a legislative body making a legislative decision. Mr. Godrey clarified that there is also an administrative authority as a Council. In his opinion, their implementation of the terms of the ADL through this agreement is an administrative action of the City Council. There are certain portions of the action that might be legislative, but the primary portion of the contract is considered to be an administrative act.

Ms. Yeckley asked to make an additional comment, which was permitted. She wanted to make it clear that it is not the affordable housing component that the condominium owners are objecting to. The objection has to do with the processes and timeline in the agreement. The owners are asking for an additional 30 days to better understand their rights and role. There is a desire to understand what their financial obligation will be and what the project will look like. Ms. Yeckley clarified that there are many decisions that will have long-term impacts on the residents and the overall project area. It makes sense to allow time for additional conversation. The condominium owners have requested 30 days.

There were no further comments. The public hearing remained open.

Mayor Dahle explained that the public hearing will remain open. This item will be included on the next City Council Meeting agenda. There will be adequate time for the City Council to review the document provided by Ms. Yeckley. He noted that there can be additional discussion at that meeting.

VI. 2025 Audit Report – Rob Wood, HBME.

Finance Director, Christian Larsen, shared information about the 2025 Financial Report. A clean opinion was received from HBME. The Management's Discussion and Analysis section was reviewed. The total net position for the City increased overall by $6,753,560 in 2025. For context, it increased by $6,465,760 in the previous fiscal year. Both 2024 and 2025 were healthy years.

Mr. Larsen reviewed items on Page 15 of the document. In the General Fund, there is approximately $8.3 million of Unassigned Fund Balance, which is just under the State limit of 35% of the General Fund revenues. It is currently at approximately 33% of the General Fund revenues. The intention is to provide some flexibility, so it is possible to withstand unexpected financial downturns. Mr. Larsen introduced Rob Wood from HBME and asked him to share comments on the audit that took place.

Mr. Wood took a moment to thank Mayor Dahle for his service and also thanked the administration for their time and efforts. He reported that the City of Holladay received an unmodified or clean opinion, which is the best opinion that he can give the organization. There has been communication with different organizations in order to receive confirmations. This process ensures that those records are in agreement with the city records. The City has received an unmodified opinion, which means there is not a belief that there are any material misstatements. The Management's Discussion and Analysis section consolidates a lot of the information. It is also the only section in the Financial Statements where there is comparative information provided.

Mr. Wood discussed the State limit of 35% that was mentioned earlier. That amount needs to be between 5% and 35%, and the City of Holladay currently sits at 33.3%. He mentioned the RDA Fund, which previously had a $3.7 million loan from the Capital Projects Fund, but this year, the RDA Fund was able to pay back $2.5 million of that loan. In addition, the unassigned balance has been reduced by over $600,000. Over the next two years, it is believed it might be able to be eliminated.

After a discussion with Mr. Larsen, it was found that money has already been transferred to the Debt Service Fund to cover the debt payments for Fiscal Year 2026. Overall, the City is in a good financial position. There are two additional reports at the back of the document, one of which is related to compliance with laws, regulations, grants, and agreements. There were no material weaknesses or deficiencies that needed to be reported. The last report is related to State compliance, and there were no problems found in any of those areas. Mr. Wood offered to answer Council Member questions.

Council Member Fotheringham thanked the Finance Department, and everyone involved in the audit process. The financial position looks strong compared to what it looked like eight years ago. He noted that there are some important projects planned for the future. He thanked Mayor Dahle, the City Council, and the administration for their efforts. The current financial position makes it possible to take on those important future projects. Mayor Dahle expressed appreciation to the staff for their work. He mentioned the Highland Drive project that is on the horizon, which has a target date of 2030 or 2031. There is also a commitment from the Council to prioritize road infrastructure maintenance.

VII. Consideration of Resolution 2025-34 - Granting Advice and Consent to Members of the Arts Council.

Council Member Fotheringham moved to APPROVE Resolution 2025-34 – Granting Advice and Consent of Katharine Schwei and Andrew McClellan to the Arts Council. Council Member Quinn seconded the motion. Vote on Motion: Council Member Gray-Yes; Council Member Quinn-Yes; Council Member Fotheringham-Yes; Council Member Durham-Yes; Mayor Dahle-Yes. Resolution 2024-34 was approved by a unanimous vote.

VIII. Consideration of Resolution 2025-35 - Granting Advice and Consent to a Member of the Historical Commission.

Council Member Durham moved to APPROVE Resolution 2025-35 – Granting Advice and Consent to a Member of the Historical Commission. Council Member Fotheringham seconded the motion. Vote on Motion: Council Member Gray-Yes; Council Member Quinn-Yes; Council Member Fotheringham-Yes; Council Member Durham-Yes; Mayor Dahle-Yes. Resolution 2024-35 was approved by a unanimous vote.

IX. Consent Agenda.

a. Approval of Minutes – October 2, 23, and November 6, 2025.

Council Member Gray moved to APPROVE the Consent Agenda. Council Member Quinn seconded the motion. The motion passed with the unanimous consent of the Council.

X. City Manager Report – Gina Chamness.

Ms. Chamness reported that the bond went to market yesterday and the entire package was closed with a true interest cost of 3.918%. The total debt service ended at approximately $16.9 million. There were a lot of variables involved, but the bond rating was beneficial. The sale will be closed next week. Council Members expressed their appreciation.

Ms. Chamness reported that at least five of the contractors who responded to the request for qualifications will be invited to bid on the eventual reconstruction project for City Hall. Those bids will be due on January 21, 2026. As for the Spring Lane project, there has been work done with the consultant to create a bridging document that will update the concept plan and create plans. Council Member Gray pointed out that during the last City Council discussion on the Spring Lane site, there was not a final decision made about a potential dog park. Some were supportive and some were less supportive. Ms. Chamness confirmed that this is something that will need to be addressed by the City Council.

Last week, Staff and Council Member Fotheringham met with the lobbyist to discuss upcoming issues in the Legislative Session. Ms. Chamness reported that it is expected that there will be a lot of bills related to property tax issues. A Legislative Interim Committee approved a bill that would limit Truth in Taxation increases in any year by any taxing entity to no more than 5%. That seems counterintuitive to her because it would incentivize an annual increase in property taxes, but it will be interesting to see what happens with that bill. There has also been some discussion about modifying the property tax exemption for residential properties, changing it from 45% to 55%. It is anticipated that housing will continue to be an issue discussed during the Legislative Session. It is also expected that there will be some Legislation related to e-bikes, which is an issue the City Council had discussed.

XI. Council Reports and District Issues.

Council Member Gray thanked Mr. Teerlink and Justice Tuffour for going through the Utah Department of Transportation ("UDOT") Environmental Assessment related to Big Cottonwood Canyon. Staff looked at the Environmental Assessment to see what the impact on the City of Holladay might be. There are mentions about increased buses, which could potentially impact existing bus routes. In addition, there is some uncertainty about whether this will impact the park and ride. There are still some questions that need to be answered as far as the potential impact to the City of Holladay.

Council Member Quinn reported that she recently attended a Community Council Meeting at Morningside Elementary School. She noted that Granite School District put a pause on the Boundary Study. She was impressed that during the Community Council Meeting; there was a willingness to ask questions and listen. It was interesting to hear the conversations between parents, teachers, and others. Council Member Quinn mentioned a proposed bill that, if a school is closed, a charter school would have the right of first refusal. She has concerns about that proposed bill if it were to pass.

Council Member Fotheringham stated that the fundraising concert was a wonderful event. The Arts Council, Staff, and the musicians were outstanding. It was a somewhat last-minute idea based on the food pantry's needs. He is not sure what the total amount raised was, but there was strong attendance. Council Member Fotheringham also enjoyed attending the Business Advisory Board luncheon. At the UFA Board Meeting, there was an opportunity to recognize Dan Brown and Dave Marino.

Council Member Durham stated that the Best of Holladay Awards luncheon was a positive event. He sat at a table with different business owners, and it was interesting to hear stories about their businesses. It was an encouraging and inspiring experience for the local business community.

Mayor Dahle thanked everyone for the kind words shared at the beginning of the meeting.

XII. Recess to RDA Meeting.

Council Member Fotheringham moved to RECESS the City Council Meeting and RECONVENE in a Redevelopment Agency Meeting. Council Member Quinn seconded the motion. The motion passed with the unanimous consent of the Council. The Council meeting recessed at approximately 7:35 pm.

XIII. Reconvene City Council in a Work Meeting to Discuss:

a. Discussion on Ongoing Concerns on Suada Drive.

Ms. Chamness reported that several months ago, there was a request received for traffic calming measures along Suada Drive. The first step was to focus on speed studies to determine the conditions. UPD collected data, and the results of the data collection did not show that there were ongoing speeding issues on this street. At the request of Council Member Durham, UPD Chief Justin Hoyal, and City Engineer Jared Bunch, participated in a neighborhood discussion. Neighbors acknowledged that speeding might not be an issue, but there were still some outstanding concerns. There was a request made to look into traffic calming measures. Before any of these options are explored further, there is a desire to receive Council Member feedback on what has been proposed.

Council Member Quinn asked if limiting the right turn would address the high school students. Ms. Chamness confirmed that this is her understanding. Council Member Quinn wondered whether the people who live on Suada Drive would be inconvenienced by this prohibition. Council Member Durham explained that there were several concerns expressed during the neighborhood meeting, including vehicle speeds, the physical layout of the street, and the amount of traffic in the area.

Council Member Gray noted that the neighbors agreed it was not a speeding issue, but a traffic volume issue. Council Member Durham reported that he received an email from a resident recently who expressed an interest in cross-tabulating the data in order to look at speed levels during school hours. He explained that vehicles are cutting through the neighborhood at certain times of the day. Council Member Gray understands the difficulties associated with the traffic volume in the area.

Council Member Fotheringham is supportive of a general discussion about speed bumps in the City, but that discussion would not be related specifically to Suada Drive, but to streets with certain characteristics. He sympathizes with the residents on Suada Drive but is not sure what has changed as far as the conditions. Council Member Durham mentioned the visibility issue on the curve.

Mr. Bunch reported that some of the residents made statements that this does not meet current design criteria for stopping sight distance. He spoke to residents about potentially restricting parking, but there was not a lot of support for that. Mayor Dahle noted that he is open to looking into different options, such as the addition of a sign or a speed flasher, but he is concerned about measures that might set a precedent. He pointed out that the speed data does not corroborate that there is a problem on this street and it also meets the sight guidelines.

Mr. Bunch reported that there were not high speeds during school hours, but there are students who are using the street as a shortcut to the school. There was a perception that speed was the issue, but it has been acknowledged that the speed study did not support that. There are still residents' frustrations about the traffic in the neighborhood. Ms. Chamness believed that based on the City Council discussion, there is no support to look into engineering studies related to the right turn movement prohibition.

Mayor Dahle pointed out that signs would not address what appears to be the main concern, which is traffic volume in the area. Council Member Durham shared additional information about the previous neighborhood discussions. Council Member Quinn asked about making the curve 20 miles per hour instead of 25 miles per hour. She asked if there would be a rationale for that kind of decision. Mr. Bunch reported that it would be possible to place an advisory sign there. Council Member Durham noted that it might make sense to speak to the neighbors about the City Council discussion and see whether there would be support for an advisory sign or something similar.

XIV. Adjourn.

Council Member Fotheringham moved to ADJOURN the City Council Meeting. Council Member Gray seconded the motion. The motion passed with the unanimous consent of the Council.

The City Council Meeting adjourned at approximately 7:55 p.m.

I hereby certify that the foregoing represents a true, accurate, and complete record of the Holladay City Council Meeting held on Thursday, December 11, 2025.
