Mayor Dahle called the Briefing Session to order and reviewed the agenda. The Council then did a virtual and in-person presentation to James Godsey. They presented him a key to the city for bravery and courage. James was diagnosed with acute myeloid leukemia (AML). James specifically requested a Key to the City in reference to the superhero Batman, whom he loves. They were able to get his bone marrow transplant after this last round of chemo, which his sister Kate, his only sibling, donated. She had a 25% chance of being a bone marrow match, and it turned out she was a 100% match. Going forward, James will now have Kate's blood type. Mayor Dahle commented that he has the support of our city council and staff, and we are praying for you. Along with the Key to the City, we have 'swag bags' for both you and Kate.

a. Incentive Award – Chief Hoyal.
Mayor Dahle reported that the Incentive Award presentation has been moved to the July 17, 2025, City Council Meeting.

b. Employee Recognition Award – Gina Chamness.
City Manager, Gina Chamness, presented the Employee Recognition Award. The City was incorporated 25 years ago and City Recorder, Stephanie Carlson was hired soon after. Ms. Carlson is now celebrating 25 years with the City. She makes sure that those running for office have all of the information needed to run, and once elected, she makes sure information is provided so elected officials can serve. Ms. Carlson takes on a lot and does so willingly. She is the person who is contacted when something is not working or there is an issue. Her focus is always on problem-solving. Ms. Carlson is also the person who preserves memories, both formally by keeping records, but also informally by remembering what is important to those she interacts with on a regular basis.

Ms. Chamness explained that Ms. Carlson has been invaluable and has helped her think through different pros and cons. Ms. Carlson has been a critical part of Holladay from the very beginning. The Employee Recognition Award recognizes her contributions to the City over the last 25 years.

Mayor Dahle noted that Ms. Carlson has seen every Mayor and every City Council in Holladay. To be in a place for 25 years and watch it grow and evolve is impressive. He thanked Ms. Carlson for her work over the years and for her loyalty. He congratulated her on receiving the award.

V. Continued Public Hearing on Proposed Fiscal Year 2025-2026 Budgets.

Mayor Dahle noted that the hearing was still open. There were no comments. The public hearing was closed at 6:13pm.

The Council's Role is to Adopt the Rate Once it is Set Formally.)*

Council Member Paul Fotheringham clarified for those present that property taxes were not raised this year. This captures the rate established by the County, which gives the City the same amount of revenue.

Council Member Fotheringham moved to APPROVE Ordinance 2025-09 – Determining the Rate of Tax for the 2025 Tax Year and Levying Taxes Upon All Real and Personal Property Within the City of Holladay. Council Member Gray seconded the motion. Vote on Motion: Council Member Durham-Aye; Council Member Fotheringham-Aye; Council Member Quinn-Aye; Council Member Gray-Aye; Mayor Dahle-Aye. IX. Consideration of Ordinance 2025-11 – Adopting a Final Budget for Fiscal Year 2025-2026. (Including General Fund, Capital Improvements, Debt Service, Stormwater, Grants and Arts Funds).

Council Member Fotheringham noted that on Page 11, there is an important comment in the Policies section, which states: "Maintaining appropriate funding for maintenance is of utmost importance. He explained that this was where the city had been headed for a number of years. There was a significant amount of deferred maintenance, and a decision was made to address it. Police, Fire, and City Administration always take required dollars upfront and so the last available dollars were used to address roads and stormwater. After 20 years of not adjusting property taxes, there were no additional available dollars. As a result of deferred maintenance and deferred adjustments to property taxes, there was a significant tax increase. He hopes that moving forward, it will be possible to maintain this new focus for generations to come. It is important to maintain the City, even if that means making appropriate adjustments to property taxes to do so.

Council Member Durham thanked Ms. Chamness, Finance Director, Christian Larsen, and City Staff for putting together the budget document. In addition, he expressed appreciation for the presentations that were made while the City Council considered the budget. The presentations were informative and valuable. Council Member Drew Quinn and Mayor Dahle echoed the comments made.

Council Member Fotheringham moved to ADOPT Ordinance 2025-11 – Adopting a Final Budget for Fiscal Year 2025-2026. Council Member Gray seconded the motion. Vote on Motion: Council Member Durham-Aye; Council Member Fotheringham-Aye; Council Member Quinn-Aye; Council Member Gray-Aye; Mayor Dahle-Aye. The motion passed with the unanimous consent of the Council.

Ms. Chamness thanked the members of the staff who contributed to the budget process, but especially Mr. Larsen, who did a remarkable job in his first year of producing the budget document.

X. Consideration of Ordinance 2025-12 – Establishing a Suggested Uniform Fine Schedule for Certain Offenses Set Forth in Titles 10 and 11 of the City Code.

Council Member Quinn moved to ADOPT Ordinance 2025-12 – Establishing a Suggested Uniform Fine Schedule for Certain Offences Set Forth in Titles 10 and 11 of the City Code. Council Member Durham seconded the motion. Vote on Motion: Council Member Durham-Aye; Council Member Fotheringham-Aye; Council Member Quinn-Aye; Council Member Gray-Aye; Mayor Dahle-Aye. The motion passed with the unanimous consent of the Council.

XI. Consideration of Resolution 2025-11 – Adopting the 2025 Salt Lake County Hazard Mitigation Plan.

Council Member Fotheringham moved to APPROVE Resolution 2025-11 – Adopting the 2025 Salt Lake County Hazard Mitigation Plan. Council Member Durham seconded the motion. Vote on Motion: Council Member Durham-Aye; Council Member Fotheringham-Aye; Council Member Quinn-Aye; Council Member Gray-Aye; Mayor Dahle-Aye. The motion passed with the unanimous consent of the Council.

XII. Consideration of Resolution 2025-12 – Adopting the Third Amendment to the Interlocal Agreement with Salt Lake County for Public Works.

Ms. Chamness stated that this is slightly less than a 3% increase in the cost of services that Salt Lake County provides, the largest of which is related to snow removal. Council Member Fotheringham believes the funds can move around based on how heavy the snow year is. For example, if there is a light snow year, the funds can be focused more on paving work. Ms. Chamness reported that costs are allocated for personnel and those remain whether it is a light snow year or a heavy snow year. However, a light snow year frees up time for some other work.

Council Member Fotheringham moved to APPROVE Resolution 2025-12 – Adopting the Third Amendment to the Interlocal Agreement with Salt Lake County for Public Works. Council Member Gray seconded the motion. Vote on Motion: Council Member Durham-Aye; Council Member Fotheringham-Aye; Council Member Quinn-Aye; Council Member Gray-Aye; Mayor Dahle-Aye. The motion passed with the unanimous consent of the Council.

XIII. City Manager Report – Gina Chamness.

Ms. Chamness reported that the request for funding for this building, which is $2 million, has been submitted by both Senator John Curtis and Representative Mike Kennedy as part of the Fiscal Year 2025-2026 Federal Budget. Assuming the budget process moves forward as usual, there should be better information in mid-July about the likelihood of that funding being included in the Federal Budget. Mayor Dahle believed the plan is to revisit City Hall and Spring Lane projects once the lease is finalized with the Granite School District and there is clarity about the funding request. Ms. Chamness confirmed this. There will be a good idea of where this is heading at the City Council Meeting in August. Options will be presented and the Council can provide direction at that time.

XIV. City Council Reports and District Issues.

Council Member Emily Gray stated that she is excited about the General Plan update process.

Council Member Quinn reported that in April, there was a visit from a team with the Utah Department of Transportation ("UDOT") who did an analysis of 4500 South. A few days ago, a copy of the analysis was shared. Everything was included, from bus stops to gutters, lighting, sidewalks, and even where the vegetation was growing in the cracks of the sidewalks. She was impressed with the analysis that was conducted.

There were some suggestions included in the analysis. The reason the study was requested was to try to get a crosswalk close to the park at the top of 4500 South. That was considered, but there was disappointment that it was listed as a Priority 2 rather than a Priority 1. Council Member Quinn and City Engineer, Jared Bunch, emailed back and expressed their disappointment. It was acknowledged that it would be a solid addition, because there is no place to cross the street in that area. As a result, they will come back in mid-July and do another site visit and study related to a crosswalk there. Council Member Quinn is impressed with UDOT and the thorough work that has been done.

Council Member Fotheringham has noticed a lot of stormwater work in his district recently. He thanked the Public Works Department for their efforts.

Council Member Durham had nothing to report.

Mayor Dahle stated that at the mid-year point, if there is any money available, he would like to increase the curb, gutter, and sidewalk budget line item so that visible work can continue.

XV. Recess City Council Meeting and Convene in an RDA Meeting.
Council Member Fotheringham moved to recess the City Council and convene in an RDA meeting. Council Member Durham seconded the motion. The Council voted in the affirmative. The Council recessed at 6:33 pm

XVI. Reconvene City Council in a Work Meeting.
Mayor Dahle reconvened the Council in a work meeting at 6:37 pm

a. General Plan Update – Delaney – Logan Simpson.
Delaney Sillman from Logan Simpson shared information about the General Plan update. A lot of progress has been made and there was an update shared with the Steering Committee yesterday. Ms. Sillman explained that there will now be an overview of the last presentation and progress updates.

The Holladay General Plan is serving the community well, but there are places where it can be enhanced. One of those areas is readability and usability. The General Plan is intended to provide overall guidance to the City. In addition, it is a guide for land use, development, infrastructure, programs, and services. It is the first step for any zone changes or updates that are considered.

There has been outreach with the community, the Steering Committee, City Staff, and other groups to determine whether the vision still holds true. Ms. Sillman explained that the General Plan update process is about midway, but the work is moving forward steadily. Jim Carter shared additional General Plan information. The public engagement has reinforced the idea that the priorities for residents and businesses in Holladay have not changed much since the General Plan was adopted. There were several key themes that emerged from the outreach to the community, which include:

- Housing;
- Transportation;
- Parks, Recreation, and Open Space;
- Community Character;
- Responsible Growth.

The General Plan will be provided in a PDF format that can be printed out and read. However, there will also be portals embedded in each of the chapters that allow readers of the plan to look at interactive maps for various portions of the plan, such as housing and recreation areas. More information will be shared about the interactive elements during the next presentation to the Council.

Mr. Carter noted that a lot of time was spent on the Vision Statements. He read the following: "Holladay has preserved its character as a beautiful and unique community that is safe, family-friendly, and a highly desirable place to live, work, and play. As Holladay changes and evolves, the City considers the needs of future generations while maintaining what is valued today." That language attempts to acknowledge future change while still holding onto what is most important.

Mr. Carter reported that a lot of visioning has been done as well as outreach. There have been two Steering Committee Meetings and a Vision and Values Event on March 29 and April 1, with an Online Poster Session. Ms. Sillman shared additional information about the Vision and Values Event. There were opportunities provided for participants to interact with maps and share thoughts about spaces that could sustain additional change, as well as areas that need to be protected. There were some meaningful conversations with the event attendees. The feedback was incorporated into the draft policies and goals. Based on the outreach, it is clear that there is still strong support for tree canopy protection. There are also concerns related to growth, specifically the scale of new growth, considerations for traffic and accessibility, and commercial creep. In addition, there were some priority areas identified, which included Holladay Crossroads and Holladay Hills.

The goals and policies were reviewed. Ms. Sillman clarified that this is still in progress, but there are a few key changes that are being worked on. In the current plan, there are different ways that goals and policy statements are presented depending on the chapter. In the General Plan update, the intention is to have a standardized approach so it is easy to find the goal, policy, and action steps. Ms. Sillman reported that the goals and policy questionnaire is currently available to complete. That questionnaire will be open for the next month or so, and the intention is to receive additional feedback.

There has been a lot of feedback about the character of Holladay. The plan will pull imagery from the City itself and include it in the plan. That way, it will be easier to picture what a goal or policy will look like in action. Ms. Sillman shared an example layout. She next discussed the New Opportunity Categories, which will identify areas of potential change and stability. There is an evolve, sustain, and protect category. Those are all illustrated on the example map in different colors. She next reviewed a constraints map with items like steep slopes, private driveways, and waterways.

Council Member Fotheringham referenced the example goal that was included in the presentation slides with the action to: "Establish a compatibility checklist for developers to demonstrate how projects respond to neighborhood context in stable neighborhoods." He asked if that would be a common element in a General Plan. Community and Economic Development Director, Jonathan Teerlink, reported that this would be something new that is not necessarily in all General Plans. Council Member Fotheringham asked about the General Plan update process so far. Mr. Teerlink pointed out that this is an update process. The current version of the plan is difficult to navigate, which will be addressed through this update. There should be a full set of draft chapters and something that is deliverable to the community fairly quickly. He is impressed with the work so far.

Council Member Gray has been impressed with the work of the Steering Committee because the Committee looks at all of the details. What has been done so far makes the plan a lot more user-friendly, even for those who are not familiar with land use or planning. This will be beneficial to developers, residents, and others. She expressed appreciation for the work that has been done. Council Member Gray asked if it would be possible to have the QR code sent to Council Members, which was confirmed. There is a desire to receive as much community feedback as possible.

Ms. Sillman noted that additional comments or suggestions can be shared throughout the process. There is one more event planned before the adoption process begins. The Draft Plan Event is tentatively scheduled to take place in August, with the Plan Adoption anticipated to take place in the fall.

b. Discussion on Cottonwood Mall Urban Renewal Area ADL – Gina.

Ms. Chamness explained that the next item on the agenda is related to the Cottonwood Mall Urban Renewal Project Area. This is the first in a series of presentations that came out of the Council Retreat in February. At that time, a number of topics were identified and a request was made for additional information. Ms. Chamness started by discussing Tax Increment Financing ("TIF"). It is a tool that the Legislature has given municipalities to use to incentivize private development. These are called project areas. The Urban Renewal Project Area type no longer exists, so the project areas are now called Community Reinvestment Project Areas. That is the current law, but the concept is similar.

Once a project area is created, the RDA that created the project area is entitled to receive a portion or all of the tax increment dollars that are generated in that area for a specified period of time. That is usually between 15 and 20 years. The RDA can then use the tax increment dollars collected in the project areas to incentivize development within the project area. That typically increases property values and, in turn, increases the amount of revenues generated in the project area. After the expiration of that tax increment collection period, the dollars that previously flowed to the RDA then go back to the School District, County, or the City, which is what happened with the project area that was closed a few years ago. That project area was generating approximately $1.1 million every year for the RDA. At the end of that time, it returned to the City approximately $180,000 and a little less than $700,000 to the School District. It was distributed regularly to the other agencies that participated.

Redevelopment projects are commonly used for things like land purchases, installing infrastructure, financial incentive agreements, and more. Generally, there should be a public purpose associated with the development of that project area. .

Ms. Chamness shared a presentation slide that illustrates the boundaries for the Cottonwood Mall Urban Renewal Project Area. At the time this project area was created, State Law required that the RDA receive approval from the Taxing Entity Committee ("TEC"), which included all members who were assessing taxes at that time. The law has since changed, but that is what was in place back then.

In order for the RDA to receive approval from the TEC, there were a few agreements that needed to be made. TEC approved both a plan and a budget for the project area in 2008. Ms. Chamness noted that the budget commits 75% of the property tax increment from all taxing entities that assess property tax at the site to the RDA. TEC included several conditions, which included the following:

- Holladay commits 75% of its point of sale sales tax to project area expenses;
- When property and sales tax increment is equal to $122.5 million, no further contribution from any entity is required;
- 100 units of affordable housing at 80% of AMI must be created in Holladay;
- The maximum contribution of property tax increment from all parties is $96.3 million; and
- The TEC is committed to a 20-year tax increment. Originally scheduled to begin between 2011 and 2013, it was extended to 2017. The increment clock has already been "triggered".

In 2021, the Legislature made a change that allowed the project area to be extended by two years without approval of the TEC as a way to address the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic. That is what has happened, which means this project area has been extended through 2038. Ms. Chamness next discussed and reviewed the terms of the Agreement for the Development of Land ("ADL").

There was discussion about public improvements. Ms. Chamness explained that the City was meant to put those in and then there was supposed to be a reimbursement. One of the changes made in 2018 was that it was not dependent on the flow of increment. There was a responsibility to pay the City upfront regardless of whether increment was flowing or not. It was noted that the developer explained they were not in a position to do that, so the City Council made a choice at that time. An adjustment will be made in the near future that states the increment will be withheld in order to pay back the City.

Council Member Gray asked when the other conditions will be met. Mr. Teerlink reported that there are 250 homes that have been built, 50 that are under construction, and 105 that are entitled. The 100,000 square feet of office is only about 25% of the way there and the square footage for retail is not met. The latter is likely around 20,000 square feet out of the 60,000 square feet. Mayor Dahle pointed out that the ability to change the requirements is an administrative action of the RDA Board. The world has changed a lot since the ADL was generated, especially when it comes to office use. It might make sense to make adjustments at some point if needed.

Council Member Quinn asked about the affordable housing units. Ms. Chamness reported that there is a chart that outlines all of the different time limits. She offered to send that chart out to Council Members following the City Council Meeting. Mayor Dahle thanked her for the presentation.

c. Calendar.

- Council Meetings – July 17, August 7, and 21, September 4 and 18.

The calendar items were reviewed. Mayor Dahle reported that the City Council Meeting on September 4, 2025, will be challenging, because he will not be in town and Council Member Quinn has another commitment. It might be worth moving that meeting to September 11, 2025, instead. Mayor Dahle reported that he will not be in town on the 11th either, but will be back for the meeting on the 18th. It was determined that the City Council Meeting will be moved to September 11, 2025.

XVII. Closed Session for the Purposes Described in UCA 52-4-205 and 205 to Discuss the Physical or Mental Health or Professional Competence of an Individual, Potential Litigation, Property Acquisition and Disposition.

There was no Closed Session.

XVIII. Adjourn.

Council Member Fotheringham moved to ADJOURN. Council Member Gray seconded the motion. The motion passed with the unanimous consent of the Council.

The City Council Meeting adjourned at approximately 7:50 p.m.

I hereby certify that the foregoing represents a true, accurate, and complete record of the Holladay City Council and RDA Meeting held on Thursday, June 12, 2025.
